FROM THE DESK OF BEN SHAPIRO

Dear Fellow American:

Conservative students such as Aimee Triana shouldn't be threatened with violence just for inviting me to her college campus.

What happened to Aimee and her Young America's Foundation members was outrageous...but sadly, it's not unique.

On college campuses across America, leftist students--and faculty!--regularly resort to bullying, intimidation, and even violence to silence conservative students.

These conservative students, including Aimee, are risking their academic careers to defend the conservative principles you and I hold dear. They are on the frontlines in the ideological battle against the Left for the future of our nation.

So please, join me in helping Aimee and other conservative students fight the Left by supporting Young America's Foundation today.

Consider it an investment in saving America...

Sincerely,

Ben Shapiro

P.S. Don't let leftist thugs silence Aimee and other conservative students. These young people are fighting for the future of our country. Won't you help them?

Aimee Triana

George Washington University, Class of 2019

October, 2019

Dear Conservative Friend:

My name is Aimee Triana. I'm a student at George Washington University in Washington, D.C., and...I need your help.

I'm writing you personally because, like so many other conservative students at colleges and universities across America, my right to free speech—and to promote the values you and I share—is under attack like never before.

I've seen it up close. I've lived it...

Recently, my student-run Young America's Foundation (YAF) chapter at The George Washington University organized a special lecture by conservative author, radio host, and TV personality and editor-in-chief Ben Shapiro.

Our event attracted hundreds of students. People were so excited about Ben's speech that all of our tickets were claimed in less than 15 minutes! But how did the radical Left react when we announced Young America's Foundation was bringing Ben Shapiro to campus?

They threatened us...with violence.

Keep in mind, this is the same school that warmly welcomes radical leftists like Bernie Sanders, Michelle Obama, Joe Biden, and others.

When we announced we were hosting a popular, in-demand conservative speaker, posters featuring a giant red "X" splashed across a picture of Ben Shapiro were spread across campus!

Accompanying the picture was a warning: "HEY YAF...GET SECURITY!"

(over, please)

The extreme leftists on campus threatened us with physical violence and thuggish tactics to try to silence us.

But we weren't about to be intimidated. Once I shook off the initial shock of such a direct threat, I alerted campus officials, expecting they would act to keep us safe...

Instead, the liberal university administrators ignored me.

According to campus officials, the Left's "GET SECURITY" poster was "most likely not a threat."

Young conservatives like me regularly face intimidation and threats by left-wing thugs on campus.

To give you a sense of what I mean, I've put together a small sampling of the many horrible slurs leftists have hurled at me, my YAF chapter, and fellow conservative students over the internet...

"Y'all really hate women!"

"YAF can go FK themselves!"

"If only there was a pill to cure the disease that is YAF."

"The whole organization should be burned out."

And it doesn't end there...

Twice, someone created fake anti-Islam posters and put YAF's name on them. They posted the flyers all around campus. The first time this happened, our YAF chapter almost got removed from the University for an act we had nothing to do with. Here's another outrage.

Every year, we put dozens of crosses in the ground on campus to commemorate the lives lost to abortion. And every year, leftist students and faculty approach our display and literally break our crosses in half and tear up our poster that says "in memory of the lives lost to abortion." One woman shouted expletives at us just for sitting next to our display.

Our posters advertising events and speakers are regularly torn down or defaced.

And it won't surprise you to learn the problem of intolerance, hatred, and violence aimed at conservatives isn't unique to my campus.

At colleges and universities across America, young conservatives are subject to harassment and threats—often supported by left-wing professors and administrators.

Today, those same professors and administrators are teaching young people to be ashamed of everything that made America great: individual freedom, limited government, free speech, and free enterprise.

In my classes, professors dedicate hours to promoting socialism—without ever mentioning the United States Constitution!

Arguments for limited government and individual freedom are lost on those who don't understand the Constitution and its importance. Perhaps that's why a record number of young people are now embracing socialism. The country you and I love is in danger!

That's why I'm working hard on campus with Young America's Foundation to help young people understand the Constitution and the founding principles that made America the "shining city upon a hill" described by President Ronald Reagan.

I believe—as I'm sure you do—that helping young people understand the greatness of The Constitution is the only way to stop my generation from fully embracing the evils of socialism.

But I need your help today to do it...

(over, please)

Enclosed with this letter, you will find a pocket version of the U.S. Constitution. On the cover, there's a spot for you to sign your name and include your city and state.

I'm hoping you will sign and return this copy of the Constitution in the return envelope right away.

When you rush back your signed pocket Constitution today, Young America's Foundation will make sure it gets in the hands of a student, like me, who is fighting to save their campus from leftist indoctrination.

Without you, the battle against the Left across the nation for college campuses—for the hearts and minds of our nation's youth—would be lost. Believe me, I know from personal experience.

That's why I'm also hoping you can help YAF get more copies of the Constitution into the hands of students across the country with your kind gift today of $25, $35, $50, $100, $250, $500, or even $1,000 or more if you're able.

Since 1960, Young America's Foundation has had a winning track record of fighting back against the radical, left-wing indoctrination of college students.

As the principal outreach organization for the Conservative Movement, Young America's Foundation introduces young people to the principles of individual freedom, a strong national defense, free enterprise, and traditional values.

Young America's Foundation provides students with an oasis of rational thought in a sea of liberal disinformation. The Foundation has many of the leading experts in our country speaking on the Constitution including Attorneys General Ed Meese and John Ashcroft, Victor Davis Hanson, and Robert George.

We also get to meet other like-minded students from across the country at transformative training conferences and seminars.

You may have heard of Young America's Foundation as the organization which saved Ronald Reagan's beloved Ranch home for future generations. Today, YAF preserves and protects it, so young people can walk in Reagan's footsteps and learn about his freedom philosophy.

In addition, YAF sends us conservative educational and activism materials to use at our schools. And we're connected to a roster of leading conservative speakers—including Ben Shapiro—for lectures on campuses across the country.

Conservative students would be lost on liberal college campuses without Young America's Foundation.

And since Donald Trump has been President, leftists on campus have reached new lows with their toxic, bigoted, hateful, and sometimes violent attacks on young conservatives!

The worst, most extreme, most intolerant, culprits are professors and administrators—not liberal students! As we speak, they're corrupting the next generation of American leaders with hateful anti-conservative rhetoric, tyrannical socialist ideas, and a full-frontal assault on The Constitution.

That's why I'm asking you to help conservative students like me today!

So please, to save America and protect the conservative ideas you and I cherish, I hope I can count on you to:

- 1. Sign and return the enclosed pocket U.S. Constitution. This Constitution, and your personal message, will be shared with a student like me who is facing harassment and threats by leftist thugs on campus; and

(over, please)

- 2. Rush back a generous, tax-deductible contribution of $25, $35, $50, $100, $250, $500, $1,000, or even more to support Young America's Foundation.

Your gift will help get more copies of the Constitution into the hands of students across the country—and support YAF's critical efforts to train more young conservatives like me to fight back against left-wing indoctrination on campus.

This copy of the Constitution, and your personal message, will be shared with a student who is facing harassment and threats by leftist thugs on campus.

I sincerely hope and pray that I've impressed upon you the importance of supporting students like me fighting for conservative principles—and rescuing our country from a dark future—by supporting Young America's Foundation today.

Sincerely,

Aimee Triana

George Washington University, Class of 2019

P.S. Please, won't you help me prevent the leftist bullies on campus from winning? As we speak, students are being subjected to radical, socialist indoctrination by the tyrannical leftists who dominate America's colleges and universities. That's why my peers and I need your help! Please personalize and rush back the enclosed U.S. Constitution right away to get it in the hands of a conservative student activist fighting the Left on campus. And help give conservative students like me the tools we need to fight back by supporting Young America's Foundation with a generous, tax-deductible contribution of $25, $35, $50, $100, $250, $500, $1,000, or even more. Thank you!
